SIGHTLINE NOTE

A straight line drawn from W-Corey (5, 5) to the confrontation at P1 (34, 14) passes directly across the support column C1 (24, 11). By contrast, the bartender’s line from W-Dana (16, 3) to P1 passes north of the column and is not obstructed by it. The burned-out fixture F1 is over this same east area, leaving it the most dimly lit part of the room.

LEGEND

o	person (Corey, Dana, Reyes)
X P1	decedent (Hale), final position
k	folding knife (closed), ~2 ft from Hale's right hand
▓ C1	support column (~1.5 ft square), ~10 ft from Hale
E2 / E3	two 9 mm casings near the column (~10–11 ft from Hale)
B	booths along the west wall
`. .	Corey's line of sight to the confrontation — crosses the column C1

Reading the diagram: Corey is at the far west end of the bar. His line of sight to the shooting (P1) runs on the dotted line, which is interrupted by the support column (C1) and ends in the dimmest part of the room, where the overhead fixture (F1) was out. The bartender (Dana), positioned center, has a cleaner line that passes north of the column.
